

C.E.S. TRADE ENFORCEMENT DISCOUNT PROMPT PAYMENT REBATE (PPR) OR PROMPT PAYMENT DISCOUNT (PPD)

A 20% discount/rebate shall apply to examination charges listed on our Trade Enforcement Fee Schedule when full payment is received within 20 days of the invoice date. FCL Logistics. (C.E.S.) offers you a choice of discount programs. You may choose either the “Prompt Payment Rebate” or the “Prompt Payment Discount.”

The rebate applies to examination charges only and does not apply to warehouse handling, storage, facility fees, per diem, or any other charges.

Prompt Payment Rebate (PPR): We will send you a check, the following month, for all earned rebates of the preceding month. This program will give you a lump-sum check plus a statement detailing examinations earning rebates, lost rebates, and status of invoices still eligible.

Prompt Payment Discount (PPD): You may deduct directly from your invoice the amount in the “date due and discount” area on our invoice. This program provides an immediate discount when the invoice is paid within 20 days.

You choose the discount method you want, please speak with Laurie or Veronica in our office (800) 455-7420. If you are already a Prompt Payment Rebate or discount user, you need to do nothing unless you want to switch your program.

(Rebate sign up form printed on reverse side of this sheet.)

We are required by the IRS to have customer information on file for tax purposes if you are participating in the Prompt Payment Rebate program. If you elect the Prompt Payment Discount program the customer information form is used only to notify us of your choice.

Per Public Bulletin 96-089 issued 12/13/96. Special fee arrangements between a CES operator and its clients are permitted. Section 5.j of the Agreement of Understanding reads as follows: see 5. j. The CES operator will assess service fees strictly in accordance with the fee schedule included in the CES operator’s approved application or as changed under the provisions of 19 CFR 118.5. Fee schedules must include all special fee arrangements and/or discounts that are offered. No deviation from the fee schedule is permissible. The CES operator must provide 90 calendar days advance written notice to the Port Director of any proposed fee schedule changes, which will include written notice to the Port Director of any proposed fee schedule, which will include written justification for any increased or additional fees.
